

Don't get caught off-guard by changes in a new EU landscape

Make the most of an election year — to set up your team for success in the next five-year term.

In an election year, many dossiers are expected to keep moving, as there is still a lot of unfinished work. The next five years leading up to 2030 will be crucial for EU politics, namely in achieving significant goals in digital and climate transitions. Don't risk missing a crucial change in EU legislation.

FiscalNote EU Issue Tracker

Keep an eye on policy development while following the elections so you aren't caught off-guard by any last-minute changes and decisions. Our powerful EU policy platform includes:

- ✓ Customisable alerts on the latest EU legislation:
Stay up-to-date on policy developments in the EU that matter most to you, including consultations for new proposals which may not be on your radar. View shelved or dormant files that may be revived under the next Commission.
- ✓ Future insights and horizon scanning:
Stay ahead of new work programme coverage, future legislation that may be carried over by the Commission, and how certain priorities and proposals evolve after the European Parliament changes. Dossier timelines clearly show what is expected to happen and when.
- ✓ AI-powered transcripts:
Keep ahead of European Parliament hearings and Committee meetings. When a new Commissioner is being questioned for an appointment, get the full automated transcript in near real time.
- ✓ Regulatory tracking during the elections:
We monitor the delegated and implementing acts, regulatory procedure with scrutiny, studies from EU agencies, and produce future initiatives from this preparatory work that will shape new legislation.
- ✓ Who's who in policy:
58% of the European Parliament is expected to change. With a stakeholder directory refreshed continuously, you gain back time to focus on rebuilding relationships with key decision-makers.
- ✓ Taking the pressure off policy work:
EU Issue Tracker brings you major time savings, even if you don't have a long list of priority proposals to follow. Now is the ideal time to identify and analyse the periphery issues affecting your organisation.

Get the most comprehensive combination of reliable policy analysis, stakeholder data, and election coverage available, so you can make informed decisions.

Our Approach:

- ✓ We combine human intelligence and technology to help you navigate EU policy at an institutional level — including legislative and non-legislative files, secondary legislation, and possible future regulatory measures.
- ✓ Our policy radar identifies future regulatory risks and policy initiatives before they become formal proposals. Early monitoring enables you to mitigate exposure to new and peripheral policy concerns.
- ✓ Identify new developments coming out of the Commission, Council, Parliament, and other EU agencies. Detailed timelines lay out each dossier's procedure step-by-step, with an additional layer of human analysis to help you make sense of it all.
- ✓ Clear, concise updates are sent to you directly, keeping you informed on any developments you need to be made aware of — without cluttering your inbox. Any time you see an e-mail from EUIT, you know it is important.

- ✓ Access to our policy analysts and account management team ensures you are continually supported and set up for success.
